Mark your Calendars for #ILGive

#ILGive is just two weeks away! #ILGive (pronounced “I’ll give”) is an one day, statewide movement to do good in our communities. We need your help to make sure that this year’s #ILGive is Silk Road Rising’s most successful yet.

Here's what you can do to support art that changes our national conversations on race, religion, and belonging:

- Today, invite your friends and family to like and follow us on Facebook and Twitter. Tell them why you support our mission to advance Asian American and Middle Eastern American stories.
- On Tuesday November 27th, join this movement that challenges disinformation and promotes continuous learning. Visit Silk Road Rising online to make your contribution.

Christmas Mubarak Spreads Holiday Cheer!

As the holiday season gets closer and closer, the buzz surrounding Christmas Mubarak gets louder and louder! We can’t wait to show you how special this event will be, so we’ll share just a bit of what people are saying:

“What is it that one wants for the holidays? We want to be inspired. We want to find the ties that bind us together in one human family not constrained by race,
