Wishing You a Blessed Thanksgiving

Dear Friend,

As we get ready to celebrate the Thanksgiving holiday with our loved ones, we're writing to say THANK YOU for being a part of the Silk Road Rising family.

It is through your patronage that we can live our mission: to create art that builds bridges between communities and illuminates the countless ways one can be an American. You are helping us overcome barriers erected by fear of those we don't know; of those who pray, look, and love differently.

You make this work possible. Your support as patrons and donors helps fund the cultivation and celebration of stories that lead us closer to one another.

We thank you and are looking forward to hosting you at Silk Road Rising for our upcoming holiday play-with-music, Christmas Mubarak.

With gratitude,

Malik & Jamil

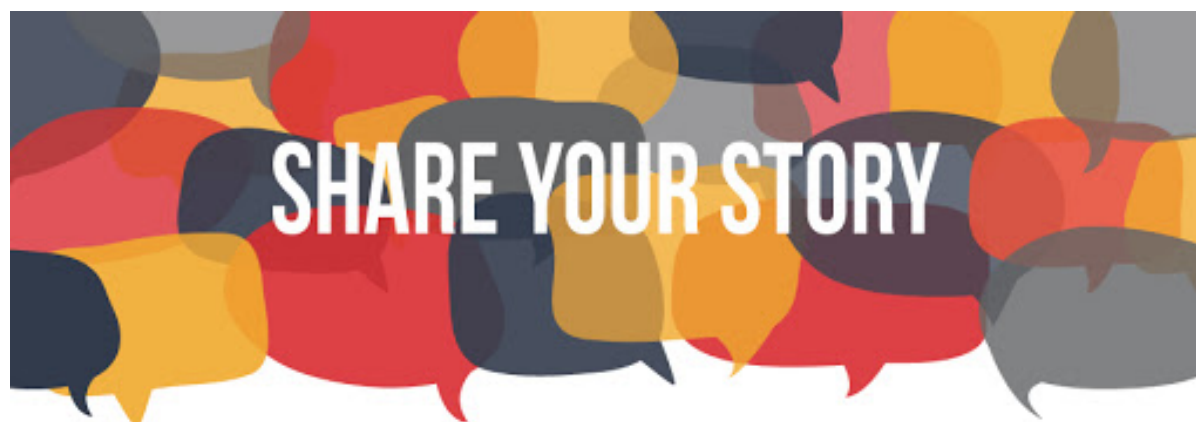

Friend, we're very grateful to our audience members who have taken the time to share their stories online. Read these few below and share your story on Facebook. Make sure to include #SilkRoadStories and tag @Silk Road Rising!

"Silk Road Rising is essential in Chicago as it provides a multicultural space that addresses important conversations regarding Middle Eastern and Asian populations in America through storytelling."

"It truly is a new Silk Road for spreading ideas from around the world."

"I happened across Silk Road Rising as a volunteer usher, but their ability to tell the stories of Middle Eastern and Asian people with compassion, dignity, and vigor quickly turned me into a donor. We don't have much to give, but their work is so critical to a fully inclusive society that I can't imagine not doing everything I can to support their continuance."

"They provide a platform for the unconventional, a space for profound discovery, and aren't afraid to speak truth to power."
