"For over a decade I have sat in the audience and learned what I never otherwise would have known about people halfway around the world and just around the corner. What Silk Road Rising provides on stage, online, and on campus is stunning and impactful."

"They connect with the particular community whose story is being told to create relationships, through passionate outreach, that will involve them directly as fountains of knowledge and experience to ensure that their culture, faith, tragedies, and triumphs are told with greatest of care and responsibility."

"In spring 2018, Silk Road Rising produced the premiere of my play Through the Elevated Line. The experience was deeply rewarding. Much of that had to do with the impressive commitment and passion that the people of Silk Road Rising unfailingly bring to their work, and the respect and dedication they generously give to artists like me."
