Help Silk Road Rising Make an Impact in 2019

Dear Friend,

As a result of your support throughout 2018, Silk Road Rising continued to produce art that challenged and entertained audiences, empowered students to find self-expression through storytelling, and developed new community partnerships engaged in meaningful self-reflection and dialogue through the power of our video plays.

We simply could not have accomplished any of this without you. THANK YOU.

Donate to Silk Road Rising Today!

We launch into 2019 with exciting new programming, including:

- * international collaboration with artists from Russia and former Soviet Republics;
- * release of a new video play;
- * development of a podcast in partnership with WBEZ Chicago Public Radio;
- * creation of a community-wide partnership in West Ridge resulting in theatre and digital stories;
- * expansion of arts learning opportunities including our webinar-based programs for corporations;
- * and, the launch of an archival site documenting Silk Road Rising's national impact over the last sixteen years.

We are a community-based and community-supported arts and culture organization. Our existence, and our ability to follow through the 2019 programming commitments rely on your support.
