To the outside world, the Lee boys look like the perfect Korean American sons: Isaac plans to be a doctor and his younger brother, Jimmy, is a champion swimmer with a bright future. But when their widowed father, Boo-Seng, decides to take them on a road trip to Durango, Colorado, all three find themselves grappling with old memories and unhealed wounds. As tempers flare and secrets break open, the difference between who they are and who they've pretended to be threatens to tear the family apart.

the Museum of Contemporary Art of Chicago

Acclaimed across the country, Heather Raffo's journey into the lives of nine ordinary Iraqi women is a riveting, explosive mix of docudrama, lyrical language and mesmerizing performance. Next Theatre Company brings Raffo and director Joanna Settle to recreate what critics across the country have hailed as one of the most important new plays of the century. Mature audiences only.

"Powerful, impassioned, vivid and memorable" – New York Times
